ABSTRACT

Reform and Opening have become the main melody of Chinese people political and economic life since 1979, and it has obtained great successes. Reform involves the adjusting of interests among various aspects in which some people get more and others less in the social income distribution of groups and residents. Changing of income should be normal, indeed. However, economic growth at high speed deals with the adjusting of vested interest aspects and results in the impartial distribution of grown benefits, and meanwhile China's reform and development are carrying on under not good enough developed market economy in which various controlled and uncontrolled, rational and irrational factors are blent, which has formed the differential pattern of income distribution. As an appearance in recent years, the unfair distribution of social income has caused to pay widespread attention, which is not only an economic problem, but a social one. The paper tries to analyse the phenomena and the contributing factors of the unfair distribution, and all kind of factors connected are studied and the differential pattern of the income distribution is structured by AHP as well as relevant countermeasures are advanced.
